

Flexible Spending Accounts —

REAL SAVINGS. REAL SIMPLE.

Using a Flexible Spending Account (FSA) is a great way to stretch your benefit dollars. You use before-tax dollars in your FSA to reimburse yourself for eligible out-of-pocket medical and dependent care expenses. That means you can enjoy tax savings and increased take-home pay—all with the convenience of a prepaid benefits card. And that makes real sense.

What is an FSA?

With an FSA, you elect to have your annual contribution (limit set by the IRS) deducted from your paycheck each pay period, in equal installments throughout the year, until you reach the yearly maximum you have specified. The amount of your pay that goes into an FSA will not count as taxable income, so you will have immediate tax savings. FSA dollars can be used during the plan year to pay for qualified expenses and services.

- A Healthcare FSA allows reimbursement of qualifying out-of-pocket medical expenses.
- A Limited Purpose Medical FSA works with a qualified high deductible health plan (HDHP) and Health Savings Account (HSA). A limited FSA only allows reimbursement for preventive care, vision and dental expenses.
- A Dependent Care FSA allows reimbursement of dependent care expenses, such as daycare) incurred by eligible dependents. Based on the IRS annual family maximum.

Please check with your employer to see what plans are offered and what your employer set maximum is.

With all FSA account types, you'll receive access to a secure, easy-to-use web portal where you can track your account balance, view your investment accounts and submit requests for reimbursements.

Is an FSA right for me?

An FSA is a great way to pay for expenses with pre-tax dollars.

A Healthcare FSA (based on the IRS limit) could save you money if you or your dependents:

- Have out-of-pocket expenses like co-pays, coinsurance, or deductibles for health, prescription, dental or vision plans
- Have a health condition that requires the purchase of prescription medications on an ongoing basis
- Wear glasses or contact lenses or are planning LASIK surgery
- Need orthodontia care, such as braces, or have dental expenses not covered by your insurance

A Dependent Care FSA (Based on the IRS annual family limit) provides pre-tax reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses related to dependent care. This benefit may make sense if you (and your spouse, if married) are working or in school, and:

- Your dependent children under age 13 attend daycare, after-school care or summer day camp
- You provide care for a person of any age whom you claim as a dependent on your federal income tax return and who is mentally or physically incapable of caring for himself or herself

Plan ahead

Before you enroll, you must first decide how much you want to contribute to your account(s). You will want to spend some time estimating your anticipated eligible medical and dependent care expenses for the calendar year, as Federal tax regulations require that any unused amount at the end of the calendar year be forfeited.

Throughout the year, you'll likely find yourself with expenses for yourself and your family that insurance won't cover. By taking advantage of an FSA, you can actually reduce your taxable income and reduce your out-of-pocket expenses when you use your FSA to pay for the things you'd purchase anyway.

*The amount you save in taxes with a Flexible Spending Account will vary depending on the amount you set aside in the account; your annual earnings; whether or not you pay Social Security taxes; the number of exemptions and deductions you claim on your tax return; your tax bracket and your state and local tax regulations. Check with your tax advisor for information on how participation will affect your tax savings. This brochure highlights some of the benefits of a Prepaid Benefits Card.
